EDUCATION

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC) Chapel Hill, NC
Master of Science in Information Science Aug. 2025 – Present

Myongji University (MJU) Seoul, Korea
Bachelor of Library Science Mar. 2019 – Feb. 2023

- CGPA: 4.25/4.50, Major GPA: 4.28/4.50
- Full-Tuition Merit-Based Scholarship with High Honors, Asan Foundation (Spring 2020 – Fall 2022)

RESEARCH INTERESTS

My research interests lie at the intersection of health informatics and library and information science, with a focus on achieving information equity in health contexts. I am particularly interested in leveraging large language models to simplify and improve the accessibility of clinical and health information for patients and underserved communities. Drawing on an LIS perspective, I aim to develop and evaluate computational and community-based approaches that bridge the gap between complex health information and public understanding, fostering more diverse and representative participation in healthcare.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

iCDCU Lab, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC) Chapel Hill, NC
Supervisor: Dr. Danny T.Y. Wu, Associate Professor, School of Data and Information Sciences (SDIS, formerly SILS)

Research Intern, Master's Thesis Summer 2026 – Present
Project: Human-Centered Evaluation of LLM-Generated Clinical Note Summaries: Rapid Review

- Conducted a rapid review of human-centered evaluation metrics for LLM-generated clinical note summaries.
- Completed Stage 1 screening across PubMed and ACM Digital Library, Stage 2 full-text review, and analysis of included studies.
- Extending the rapid review into a scoping review across additional databases for the master's thesis.

Research Intern, MSIS Independent Study Spring 2026
Project: LLM-based Summarization of Oncology Discharge Notes

- Conducted literature review on LLM-based clinical text summarization and health literacy evaluation frameworks.
- Performed data cleaning and inter-rater reliability analysis (Cohen's kappa) on annotated LLM-generated summaries of oncology discharge notes.
- Designed proxy annotation methodology using oncology patient personas at a 6th-grade reading level.
- Contributed to writing the methodology and human-centered evaluation sections of the manuscript.

Myongji University (MJU) Seoul, Korea
Student Researcher, Research Project on Winter Europe Study Trip Fall 2019
Title: Comparative Analysis of Multi-Complex Libraries: A Study of International Cases and Implications for Domestic Libraries
Advisor: Dr. Youngseok Kim / Co-researcher: Dabin Kang

- Selected as topic presenter for a comparative study of multi-complex libraries in Spain, France, and Italy through a faculty-evaluated proposal and presentation process.

PRESENTATIONS

Ramesh, A., Nguyen, O., Kim, M., & Wu, D.T.Y. (2026, November). AI-based Text Summarization and Pilot Evaluation of Oncology Discharge Notes using MIMIC-IV-Ext-BHC. Podium Abstracts presentation accepted at the American Medical Informatics Association (AMIA) 2026 Annual Symposium, Dallas, TX.

Kim, M., & Kruger, S. (2026, August). Bridging the AI Divide: A Collaborative Framework for Critical AI Literacy in Public Libraries. Poster session accepted at the IFLA World Library and Information Congress (WLIC 2026).

MANUSCRIPTS UNDER REVIEW

Ramesh, A., Kim, M., & Wu, D.T.Y. Training Small Language Models for Patient-Friendly Hospital Course Summarization: Supervised Fine-Tuning and On-Policy Distillation on MIMIC-IV-Ext-BHC. Full paper submitted to the AMIA 2027 Amplify Informatics Summit; under review.

Ehsan, Z., Kim, M., Ramesh, A., & Wu, D.T.Y. FHIR Notes for Patients: Translating Oncology Care. Application submitted to the 2026 AMIA/HL7 FHIR App Competition; under review.

Kim, M., & Wu, D.T.Y. Human-Centered Evaluation of LLM-Generated Clinical Note Summaries: Rapid Review. Poster abstract submitted to the AMIA 2027 Amplify Informatics Summit; under review.

TEACHING AND MENTORING EXPERIENCE

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC) Chapel Hill, NC
Graduate Teaching Assistant,
DATA 120: Ethics of AI and Societal Decision Making Fall 2026 – Present
Instructor: Dr. Franklin Mingzhe Li

- Assisted in course instruction for an undergraduate course covering AI ethics, algorithmic fairness, and societal impact of data systems.
- Graded quizzes, attendance, and studio assignments; managed classroom equipment and seating arrangements.
- Independently led one class session, including a recap of prior material and the studio session.

Graduate Teaching Assistant,
DATA 120: Ethics of AI and Societal Decision Making Spring 2026
Instructor: Dr. Sunha Hong

- Assisted in course instruction for an undergraduate course covering AI ethics, algorithmic fairness, and societal impact of data systems.
- Facilitated studio sessions and provided feedback on student assignments and projects.
- Developed sample course materials and grading rubrics to support consistent and fair assessment.
- Co-led the final student presentation session with fellow teaching assistants.

UNC & Community Workshop Series (CWS) Chapel Hill, NC
Teacher, Digital Literacy Teaching Volunteer Program Sept. 2025 – Present

- Facilitated drop-in tech help sessions at Orange County Southern Branch Library, providing one-on-one digital literacy support to community members.

- Developed and designed an AI Basics curriculum for adult learners at public libraries, introducing generative AI to beginners.
- Co-delivered an external guest lecture on AI basics and ethical AI integration in the classroom for grant-recipient teachers, in partnership with Bull City Schools (March 2026).
- Managed the CWS website, including semester course schedule updates; built out a new curriculum information section.

Songgok Girl's High School Seoul, Korea
Student Teacher, School Library Teaching Practice Apr. 2022
